MIDDLE COAST HAPPENINGS

Old Pioneer Passed to Rest Last Sunday

OTHER ITEMS FROM MENDOCINO

Special to Dispatch

Mendocino, Oct. 8—William H. Peterson, a well known and highly respected pioneer citizen of this place, passed away last Sunday after a few days' illness. Deceased was 73 years of age, a native of New York and a veteran of the civil war. He had lived in this state for the last 53 years, most of which time was spent on this coast.

For a number of years he was employed as night watchman in the local mill, which position he held up to a few days before his death. He leaves a son and daughter to mourn his loss.

Albert S. Bowen, a retired engineer of Oakland, who has been visiting here for the past four months with his daughter, Mrs. E. D. Woodworth, died last Friday after a lingering illness. Deceased was a native of Canada, aged 75 years.

Albert Brown, secretary of the of the local chamber of commerce, left this morning to take charge of the Mendocino county exhibit at the San Francisco Land Show, which will be held in the metropolis from Oct. 11th to 25th.

The exhibit, which consists entirely of apples, is composed of some of the finest samples of fruit ever raised in the county. Both the coast and the valleys are well represented, some fine specimens of apples being secured from Anderson valley.

Mr. Brown will be in constant attendance at the booth to give information to all visitors, and distribute literature descriptive of the county's resources and industries.

The play and dance given at Comptche Saturday night in aid of the Apple fair fund was a great success both socially and financially. Over forty people from here made the journey of 15 miles to be present and many more would have attended but for lack of conveyances.

J. N. Rea, J. A. Chambers and Ed Boyle left in the latter's auto Wednesday morning for Ukiah on legal business.

M. H. Iversen, a well known attorney of Fort Bragg, was operated on for appendicitis at that place last week. He is now recovering.

The tramp steamer Harfiete which has been loading at Noyo for several days, sailed Wednesday of last week. She took two million feet of redwood and will complete her load at Puget Sound. Her ultimate destination is Australia. She is the largest vessel ever in the Mendocino coast waters.

A woodsman named Tony Dias was hurt at Caspar last Saturday, suffering a broken leg. The member was fractured in two places. He was taken to a Fort Bragg hospital.

The Clear Lake Baptist association, which has been holding meetings at Fort Bragg for the week ending last Sunday, had a most successful convention. Delegates were present from all the churches in the district as well as from outside points.

The Point Arena high school track team passed through town the first of the week en route home after a trip to Fort Bragg, where they held a field day with the Fort Bragg team. The latter team was victorious with a score of 83 to 40. The Mendocino high school bested Willits last Saturday by a score of 76 1-3 to 41 2-3.

MISS ALBERTSON ENTERTAINS

Miss Leta Albertson entertained four of her girl friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albertson, in Ukiah last Sunday, the occasion being the young lady's 18th birthday anniversary. A sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served.

The guests were Misses Dorothy Corley, Mary Purdy, Helen Wilson and Lorene Holliday.

REV. MOORE TO LEAVE

Rev. J. E. Moore, who has been pastor at the M. E. Church, South, for several years, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday, as that is his last service in the Ukiah pastorate. His successor has not yet been announced.

It is with great regret that Ukiah people will see Mr. Moore take his departure. Under his administration the M. E. Church, South, has grown amazingly and now has by far the largest membership of any church in Mendocino county.

Mr. Moore's tolerance, his broad-mindedness and humanity, and his understanding of and sympathy with the other fellow's view point, have endeared him to a large number who affiliate with no particular denomination and he is the best-loved pastor in Ukiah among those outside the churches.

J. H. Clarke, a prominent rancher and wool grower of Cahto, was in Ukiah on business the first of the week.

CASES FILED IN SUPERIOR COURT

New Actions Are Begun During Past Week

BRIEF DIGEST OF COMPLAINTS

Through Thomas & Thomas F. L. Mosier has filed a suit in the Superior court to foreclose a mortgage held on lands belonging to Andrew Keller. The mortgage was given as security on a note for $1335 dated at Ukiah March 4, 1909. The complaint alleges that nothing has been paid on the principal and no interest since March 4, 1911. The complaint asks also for $100 attorney fees and for costs of the suit.

Julius Fox through Pemberton & Hale has filed a suit against A. J. Crawford, alleging defamation of character. The plaintiff asks for $1000 damages.

The motion for a new trial in the matter of Aexander Lamb vs. Mrs. Augusta Lamb was denied.

Leona Wallace has been granted a final decree of divorce from Thas. Wallace.

In the matter of the Sage Land & Improvement Co. vs. Hale McCowen et al order was made for commission to take deposition of witness Simms.

Order permitting the lease of the real estate of the Frank Whited estate was made.

The sale of the real property in the C. E. Bishop estate was confirmed.

An order was made confirming the report of the inheritance tax appraiser in the estate of Mrs. M. A. Johnson.

MAKKI ACQUITTED

The case of the People vs. Andrew Makki was heard in the Superior court yesterday. Makki pleaded not guilty and the jury sustained his contention, bringing in a verdict of not guilty. Makki was accused of having slashed Henry Whipple across the leg with a knife while Whipple was assisting him one night when Makki was intoxicated. As Whipple was unable to swear that Makki was the man he was helping when he was cut, on account of the darkness of the night, the jury gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt.

Preston & Preston, who appeared for Makki, had a hard case as the general presumption was that Makki was guilty, no one having heard before that Whipple was unable to identify Makki positively as his assailant.

Deputy Sheriff Ward Ries came over from Fort Bragg yesterday with Thos. Morris, who is doing 30 days for vagrancy, having been sent up from the Fort Bragg justice court.

COMPANY REFUSES REDUCTION

The Snow Mountain Water & Power Co. have refused the demand of the town board that they give the town a rate of 1⅛ cents per kilowatt hour for electric current and the controversy will in all probability be taken to the State Board of Control for arbitration.

Ben Edwards and wife returned Sunday from their trip to Los Angeles. They enjoyed their visit with relatives in the southland, but prefer to live in Mendocino.

WILLITS WANTS A CARNEGIE LIBRARY

WOMEN RAISE FUND FOR A LOT

Town Board Asked to Guarantee a Maintenance Fund

Special to Dispatch

Willits, Oct. 8—A committee of ladies from the Woman's Improvement Club appeared before the town trustees last Monday night and requested the trustees to guarantee a certain sum of money for the maintenance of a Carnegie library. The ladies also stated that they had sufficient money on hand to purchase a lot for said building.

The following resolution was then adopted:

"Resolved that the town of Willits, Mendocino county, California, hereby obligates itself, and pledges for the support of the public library for said town yearly, if the Carnegie library building is obtained, not less than $800, and that this amount of money will be levied by tax as other moneys used for town purposes are raised."

OLD CASE REVIVED IN SUPERIOR COURT

BEGAN OVER SEVEN YEARS AGO

Supreme Court Orders New Trial in re Gibbs vs. Peterson

Last Tuesday the Superior court was engaged in the re-trying of the case of J. H. Gibbs and M. Ward vs. Andrew Peterson. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides among them being the defendant Peterson, Emil Holmberg, of Anderson valley, W. B. Coombs, of Littleriver, A. L. Gonsalves, of Melburne, and Chris Ottoson, of Comptche.

The case began in 1906 when the plaintiff filed a petition for an injunction to prevent Peterson from removing the timber on lands owned by Peterson near Comptche. It seems that Peterson had bought the land from C. Oppenlander. Previous to his buying the property Oppenlander had sold the timber on it to the plaintiffs. They were to remove the timber in ten years or pay Oppenlander $200 a year for every year over that time that they left it on the place. The ten-year limit expired in 1897, but Peterson had bought the land about five years previous to that time. In 1905 and 1906 he started to remove the timber himself, desiring the land for agricultural purposes. Previous to that time, he stated in his cross-complaint, he had paid all the taxes on the land, and timber as well to prevent losing it, although the agreement between Oppenlander and the other parties required that they pay half the taxes as long as the timber remained on the place. The dispute involved some very fine points of law. In the legal fight that followed, Peterson filed two amended answers and three amended cross-complaints. The plaintiffs demurred to the last of these and the court sustained the demurrer. The defendant refused to amend again and judgment was given to the plaintiffs and the restraining injunction made permanent.

The case was then carried to the Supreme court, and in its remittitur that court held that the lower court should have overruled the demurrer and ordered it to a new trial from that point, with recommendations as to the setting of a reasonable time limit for the removal of the timber with the alternative of Peterson's removing it himself and charging a reasonable commission for his time and work.

Judge White accordingly gave judgment that the plaintiffs have four years and six months in which to take off the timber, with the alternative of letting Peterson do it for them.

Mannon & Mannon appeared for defendant, while McNab & Hirsch were attorneys for the plaintiffs.

WILLITS HIGHWAY NEARLY FINISHED

LAST STRETCH IS GRAVELLED

State Road from Willits to Ridgewood Nearing Completion

Special to Dispatch

Willits, Oct. 8—Fairbanks & Baechtel have nearly finished the first section of the state highway between Willits and Ridgewood. The grading is completed and a large force of men and teams are now gravelling the first four miles of the road south of Willits. They are giving it a layer eight inches deep and then rolling it with their 13-ton gasoline roller.

This is only temporary, however, in order to make the valley part of the road passable next winter. Next year the entire stretch will be macadamized.

Frank Reynolds, supervisor of the Fifth district, was in town to attend the Board meeting the first of the week. Frank had his hand tied up having run a thorn in one finger, the wound for a time showing symptoms of blood poisoning. Mr. Reynolds reports things quiet in his district.

GRANDPARENTS REJOICE

Last Friday morning C. P. Smith and Mrs. Wm. Howard received telegrams from their grand-son-in-law, Herman Ledeboer, of San Diego, that a 9-pound baby girl had arrived. Mrs. Ledeboer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, granddaughter of C. P. Smith and Mrs. Howard and great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Crockett. The new arrival is the sister of little Miss Betta Ledeboer, who arrived 11 months and 7 days previously to its birth. This is the second great-great-granddaughter in a year for Judge and Mrs. Crockett, and the second great -granddaughter for Mrs. Howard and Mr. Smith. The little one has been named Maxine.

Supervisor Joe Harris, of Hopland, was in attendance at the meeting of supervisors the first of the week. The local option election in his district will be held sometime in November.

VERDICT FOR THE RAILROAD

Case of Pitts vs. N. W. P. R. R. Won by Thomas & Thomas

JURY FINDS FOR DEFENDANT

The case of Geo. Pitts vs. the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co., which began in the Superior court last week, extended in its trial through one of the longest periods of time that a civil case has ever consumed in a Mendocino county court. The lawyers on both sides battled for six days presenting their evidence and arguments and both sides were almost worn out by the gruelling test of their powers.

The case began Tuesday of last week, the larger part of that day being consumed in getting a jury. Wednesday the examination of witnesses had proceeded but a short time when the defense interposed a motion for a non-suit. Pitts had been waiting for his wife at the Hopland depot, expecting her to arrive on the train, and while wandering around the depot and track waiting for the arrival of the train, had been struck by a string of freight cars which were being switched on a spur track. He was knocked down and suffered several broken bones. He sued for $25,000 damages for the injuries sustained.

As soon as the motion for a non-suit was entered the jury was dismissed pending argument of the point, which occupied the court from Wednesday morning until Thursday evening.

Thomas & Thomas, who with Lilliienthal, McKinstry & Raymond represented the railroad company, held that Pitts, when struck by the freight cars, was in a place where he had no business to be, they maintaining that the proper place for him was at the depot or at the waiting room and not out in the freight yards. Weldon & Held for the plaintiff held that even though he was out of place nevertheless the railroad company was bound to exercise due care and discretion to prevent killing or injuring him. They adduced a recently established law point to support their contention, and the court denied the motion for non-suit. The case was resumed before the jury Friday and continued until Monday. Both sides made exhaustive arguments in their summing up of the case. The jury brought in a verdict for the railroad after a little over half an hour's absence from the court room. It is stated that two of the men only were for the plaintiff.

The case was an extremely hard one in that popular sympathy is usually against a corporation and in favor of the plaintiff in accidents of this kind and Thomas & Thomas and their associates displayed a remarkable skill in pulling out a victory from what looked like a hopeless case.

A deed from Fannie G. English for a right of way in the Third district, on the Two Rivers and Covelo road was accepted by the board, ordered recorded, and the land involved declared to be public highway.

The claim of Andrew Knivila for killing one coyote was rejected by the board on the ground that it was not a legal charge, the skin only having been presented before the justice of the peace instead of the entire unmutilated carcass.

The board then adjourned to meet at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 7, 1913.

In the board of supervisors, Oct. 7, 1913. All members present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The application of J. D. Brower for permission to erect and maintain a private telephone line from the Forks, north of Ukiah to the city limits of the town of Potter valley, was granted by the board on the conditions that no tolls are to be charged on said line and that it will be constructed and maintained so as not to interfere with the working or travel of any public highway or with any other franchise or permit granted by the board.

FREE FREIGHT TO FORT BRAGG FAIR

RAILROADS ANNOUNCE POLICY

Northwestern Pacific and Cal. Western to Aid Exhibit

Both the Northwestern Pacific and the California Western Railroad & Navigation Co. have announced that the usual policy of railroads regarding county fairs and other expositions of that character will be carried out in regard to the county fair which begins at Fort Bragg next Tuesday. Freight will be free on all exhibits not including race horses, sulkies, saddles and harness, consigned to Fort Bragg and charges will be collected on delivery unless prepaid. When the exhibits are returned to exhibitor at close of fair the money he has advanced, if he has prepaid the charges, will be refunded on presentation of a certificate from the fair managers that they have been placed on exhibit. This is to prevent shipment of freight under pretext that it was for exhibition purposes. In the case of stuff of a perishable nature the surrender of the freight bill with the certificate will be sufficient to procure a refund of the money.

In accepting freight on these terms the railroads are not responsible for any loss or damage to such property.

NORBERRY INFANT DIES

Last Monday, Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Norberry, passed away after a brief illness. The little one, who was but two months old, had been suffering for a few days from a violent attack of spasms, and although the child's condition was regarded as serious, its sudden demise came as a shock to his parents.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon, Evergreen cemetery being the last resting place of the little boy.

Friends and neighbors and the teachers and a number of the grammar school pupils attended the funeral.—Beacon.

FORMER COASTER DEAD

S. R. Wade, one of the most prominent citizens of Campbell during the last twenty years, died there September 28th. Mr. Wade had been manager of the branch of the Farmers' Union at Campbell since its founding in 1892. Deceased formerly lived at Gualala and will be favorably remembered by our older citizens. He was a native of Sag Harbor, New York, and 71 years of age. He lives a widow, two sisters and two daughters—Point Arena Record.

NASAL BONE BROKEN

While standing near a skidder, directing its operations last Monday at the Northfork camp, Ed Boyle was struck by the wire rope running from the machine and as a result had a bone in his nose fractured.

He immediately came to town and had Dr. Preston attend to the painful injury, it being necessary to take a stitch in the injured organ.

He was able to return the same day to camp not much the worse for what might have been a very serious accident.—Beacon.

PLANTS SPINELESS CACTUS

This week H. E. Frost is setting out 250 spineless cactus slabs on his ranch, which he purchased from Luther Burbank, while below. He tried a couple of slabs early in the summer and they grew well. If they are the success that is expected, the problem of green feed for dairy cows is solved in a most beneficial way.—Pt. Arena Record.

A FREAK CALF

A calf was born on Jos. Soldani's ranch this week which looked like a combination of bulldog, seal and calf. It was an odd looking specimen of bovine flesh and would have been a curiosity in any show had it lived.—Record.

FINE APPLE DISPLAY FOR LAND SHOW

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS ISSUED

A. Brown to Have Charge of Mendocino Booth

Albert Brown, who will have charge of the Mendocino booth at the great Land Show in San Francisco from October 11th to 25th, returned Friday morning from a trip through Anderson valley, via Comptche and reports that he was successful in obtaining from orchardists at different points enough samples of fine apples to occupy the entire space provided for that purpose in the Mendocino county booth.

The illustrated booklets which will be distributed to all who visit the booth, are now being prepared, and some excellent photographs of Mendocino county scenes have been produced and will appear in the same.

Mr. Brown, or an assistant will be in constant attendance at the booth, prepared to give all interested visitors complete information in regard to the resources and industries of the county.

Among 200,000 or more persons from outside points who are expected to attend this exhibition there will be many who will be interested in securing information as to the inducements offered to the homeseekers by Mendocino county, and it is a matter of congratulation that the county will make such an excellent showing, and that its booth, which is located in the center of the building, next to that of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, occupies such an advantageous place.—Beacon.

BURGLAR AT POINT ARENA

Ransacks Premises of H. Williford Without Reward

A burglar entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williford Friday night and ransacked the premises, evidently in search of money, which he failed to find. Entrance was gained through a window, and while the intruder went all through the house nothing is known to have been taken, and the only damage done was the breaking open of a lock box in which Miss Williford kept her jewelry. We had thought that Point Arena was free of such gentry, and a sharp lookout will be kept with the hope of discovering the identity of the individual.—Record.

THIS PONY FREE

Boys! Girls! Do you want this beautiful Hungarian Pony for your own? Write today—Quick! You can get him—but Hurry!

Who Wants Me?

QUICK

My name is "PET"

Send in your name today, write the address plainly, and we will tell you how to get the pony and a complete outfit—buggy, harness and saddle.

This Pony is from a prize-winning herd of Hungarian Ponies, famous the world over as gentle, strong, hardy and intelligent little animals, easy to handle, untiring and exceedingly tractable. Their lofty carriage, heavy silvery manes and tails and dappled chestnut coats make them very attractive pets. Judges say that nowhere in the United States are there better, handsomer, or more perfect miniature horses to be found.

"Pet" is three years old, weighs about 300 pounds, is well broken, not only to drive and ride, but to be gentle and kind to children. He is about 42 inches high. Hitched to his wobby pony buggy which we give with him, he just steps right into the breast collar with his wide dappled chest, and will haul you and all your girl and boy friends that can pile in, up hill and down, just about as fast as most big horses. Then, if, when you get him, you want to take a canter across the field and through the woods, just slip on his beautiful bridle and tighten up the dandy saddle (which we send, too) and off you go on a lope, trot, or canter, for the jolliest sort of a horseback ride. If you send us your name and address, and get "Pet," you will have the handsomest pony outfit that ever came to your place and with all charges paid by us. You'd be the envy of every boy and girl in your town with "Pet" and his dandy outfit, but if you want him you must send us your name and address today.

Ask any postmaster or banker as to our reliability and they will tell you we can afford to give ponies for the securing of subscriptions and to advertise the CALIFORNIA COUNTRY JOURNAL. Write today for full particulars.

As soon as we hear from you we will tell you how to go ahead to get "Pet." Don't let anybody persuade you that you cannot get this beautiful little pony, because our plan of giving away ponies is different from others.

Our ponies are given away so quickly that you will stand a better chance to get one if you sit right down and write us a letter or a postal card, or send the coupon opposite filled out with your name and address (either way will be all right). The work we require you to do is something that any boy or girl who can drive a pony can do.

HOPS 44 CENTS IN NEW YORK

Reasons Advanced for Stagnation of Coast Market

ANOTHER RISE IS EXPECTED

Regarding the recent stagnation in the hop market the Santa Rosa Press Democrat says:

The hop market has been quiet the past week on account of the heavy buying, the heaviest ever known in the hop business, which occurred in the month of September in California.

Last month dealers were buying hops here at the rate of 25 to 27 cents per pound, without samples. Similar buying was done in Oregon. Out of 125,000 bales raised in Oregon, only about 50,000 remain unsold now.

Of New York state's 30,000 bales practically all have been sold with the exception of a few yards.

The highest price paid last month in California was 27 cents; 27½ cents in Oregon; 28 cents in Washington, and 42 cents in New York state.

In California there are about 20,000 bales left unsold and they are in the hands of strong holders.

The high prices this year were caused by the very short crop on the continent and in England. All the 1912 crop was bought up months ago and the world's crop this year is a great deal smaller than the annual consumption. This is what caused dealers to rush in and buy so many hops at highest prices without first seeing samples. It is reported that there is a bear movement on to stampede the growers to take lower prices. But growers who have hops are determined holders and are not crowded or forced financially to sacrifice their goods.

It is expected, from the views expressed by some local buyers, that the next spurt inhops will send the price to thirty cents and over.

The Portland Oregonian of Oct. 3rd, probably the best authority on the hop situation on the Pacific coast, says:

There are signs of an early and favorable reaction in the hop market. The change may not come this week, as the week is too far advanced, but it is probable that early in the coming week something may develop.

There were orders on the market yesterday from England, the first of any importance in six or eight days. The prices, as might be expected, were low, but they were a full cent better, quality considered, than those bid by London on the preceding day.

There is no doubt in the minds of anyone that prices in Oregon have sagged to a point not warranted by conditions here or elsewhere. The decline may have been the consequence of a too rapid elevation in September, but be that as it may, no justification can be found for prices now under the 25-cent mark. New York state hops are quoted up to 44 cents, while English and German hops are firm, and the latter advancing.

It was no doubt the belief of English buyers that they could break the coast markets by holding off. The inactivity has, of course, carried prices downward, but not to the extent that might have been expected. There has been no stampede to sell anywhere on the coast, and none is looked for, as growers are well posted on the foreign situation. A few lots of inferior hops have been disposed of as low as 20 cents, but this does not represent the market by any means.

In commenting on the crop situation in England, the latest Kentish Observer said:

"The result of the hoppicking, so far as it has progressed, are most disappointing. Men of experience have argued for weeks past that in a year like the present, when washing has been continuous, and cold northeasterly winds have prevailed, the crop would doubtless be overset. Their contention has proved to be absolutely correct and to an extent that even the most pessimistic never even dreamed of. The reports as to the yield are indeed startling.

"With growers surprise is giving way to consternation. Some will have as many empty hop pockets as full ones, at the end of the picking; and all have overbought. At Canterbury on Saturday the shortage was the theme of conversation. Probably never before has the market of the old city received such depressing reports from the hop gardens in regard to the quantity which is being secured. The one redeeming feature is that the quality is regarded as excellent, although the hops are on the small side. Scarcely any growers could claim that they would pick this season as much as two-thirds of their crop of last year. From half to three-fifths of last year's yield seemed to be about the general estimate.

"From the Weald of Kent similar reports are to hand, and it is doubtful if the Weald and Sussex will gather any more than three-fifths of last year's quantity. The reports from Mid Kent also speak of growing being much below the estimates. Worcester and Hereford will grow somewhere near half of last year, and we understand that Hampshire and Farnham will not even secure that proportion.

"If the Board of Agriculture's latest estimate should be realized the weight per acre would be only about 7 cwt.

"Compared with two years since (when prices rose to over £12 per cwt.), the present position appears to be far more dangerous to consumers. Not only will the home crop prove to be much smaller, but the stocks of old hops (which then were of such service to brewers) is now practically exhausted. The stocks of hops of all ages in the borough probably were never lower than at the present moment. No very substantial relief is to be looked for from imports, the Continent being in as bad a way as we are here. True, America will, as usual send us hops; but American hops cannot be made into either English or Continental hops. If the American crop is a trifle heavier than last year, their beer trade is also booming and the consumption of hops increasing."

The Convention on Wheels

Memories of the Shasta Convention, September, 1913

(Written for the Dispatch)

Again has Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edward Hyatt, given to the children of California through the city and county school superintendents of this great state something worth while. It has ever been his pleasure to make these meetings profitable to the many who are interested in educational work, and to his wise forethought and plans, and to his untiring efforts during the meetings is due the success that attended this first convention on wheels.

The convention special was a magnificent train, electric lighted, with dynamo cars, auditorium, two diners, five standard Pullman sleepers, and an observation car, ten cars in all. The railroad company considered it the best equipped and largest special train they had ever sent out.

There were 144 members in the party, consisting of the city and county school superintendents, their wives, the state board of education, a number of supervising principals, principals of high schools, normal school presidents, several book-men and their wives, school journal men, teachers' agency representatives, and talking machine folks.

The regular sessions and discussions took place at their proper times. The first session on Monday morning was held in the log auditorium at Castle Crags; that night the train moved on to Shasta Springs where the sessions were held on Tuesday. Wednesday in the public hall at Sisson regular work was carried out and after the afternoon session was over a game of base ball was played on the local diamond between the city superintendents on one side and the county superintendents on the other. Each side covered itself with glory and Sisson dust; interest by the admiring audience never flagged for a moment during the game. One of the book-men acted as referee and actually lived to tell the tale.

Thursday the trip to McCloud was one never to be forgotten. Mt. Shasta, stately and sublime, was viewed with wonder and awe; an auto trip to the Wheeler summer home and Mrs. Hearst's Norman castle was a wonderful experience and will linger long in our memories.

Friday was spent in Chico, regular sessions in the normal school building, auto trips over the surrounding country, and a delicious lunch served on the normal grounds by the domestic science pupils, made up a delightful day. Then on to the state capital that evening.

To the great disappointment of the newspaper boys, the "Ragging Car" was never used for ragging. Only the most sober and solemn of sessions were held in it. It was an anchor out to leeward, however, in case of bad weather or failure to secure local halls for meetings.

Topics discussed were, "Graduation from Grammar Schools", "Teachers' Pension Law", "New Institute Law", "Distribution and Care of State Text Books", Supplementary Books and Supplies" "Work of New Commissioners of Education".

Bad weather or an accident might have marred the whole occasion but the weather was ideal and not the slightest accident occurred. The superintendents enjoyed unique opportunities for seeing northern California, besides the usual amount of work along educational lines was accomplished.

NEWS NOTES FROM MENDELSSOHN CLUB

MONTH FINISHED BY THE CLASS

Large Enrollment and Enthusiastic Classes Mark Opening

(Contributed)

The Interstate class has been in session for a month and all have settled down to hard work.

Hazel Puett, Lucille Cleland, Ruth Duncan, Melissa Ball, Gladys Neighbor, Louella Heckendorff, Mamie Gowell and Clarina Copsey have been admitted to the class and are a good addition.

Miss Vera Banks and Miss Flossie Ruddock expect to finish the course this year and receive their diplomas in June and Pres. E. H. Scott of the conservatory of which they are members expects to present the diplomas.

Misses Lucille Cleland, Gertrude Jamison, Veva Parker, Leila Gibson, Rose Gibson, Jessie Orr and Hazel La Porte by practicing four hours a day could finish in June but prefer to wait a year longer.

Miss Dorothy Thomas will be the youngest graduate in the course as she is now doing third and fourth grade work and playing sixth grade music.

All the members of the grades are working hard to enter the one above and those in the highest are working hard to finish.

The Mendelssohn Club has signed a contract with the California Jubilee Quartette, which will give a fine entertainment Nov. 21st at Cleland's hall.

The opening of the Mendelssohn Club dances will be at Cleland's hall Oct. 17th. The first meeting of the Club will be at the I. S. Studio Friday night, Oct. 10th, at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to attend.

The Mendelssohn and Mozart clubs were much disappointed in not being able to go to Fort Bragg with their June musical. They feel very grateful to the Fort Bragg people for doing them the honor of inviting them to give an entertainment at such an important event as the county fair and hope to visit Fort Bragg next year.

PRUNES BEING SHIPPED

The prune crop for Ukiah valley is about one-third of a normal crop, there being but 200 tons where the usual crop is about 700. The market is brisk for the larger grades, but there is practically nothing doing in the small ones.

Wm. Cox has been shipping those bought by him and reports that he has about 75 tons. Bunt Bucknell will ship about 100 tons and the California Fruit Canners Association about 12 tons.

The Anderson valley crop also was light.

ELECTION CALLED BY "DRYS"

In reporting the local option election to be held in the Third district, the Dispatch stated that the election was being called by the "wets". The Third is already wet and the election is being called by the "drys". As the statement might make some difference in the election we make the correction.

THE WEATHER

Dr. McCowen reports a maximum temperature the past week of 80 degrees on the 3rd and a minimum of 31 on the 5th. Rain, .04 of an inch, making .22 to date against 2.93 last year and .625 for an average year.

FIRE AT COVELO DESTROYS BUTCHER' SHOP

TOWN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Efforts of Volunteer Fire Fighters Subdue Flames

A fire broke out at one o'clock Thursday morning in Gravier & Masters' butcher shop. The flames had considerable headway when discovered and in half an hour the building was a total loss. The attention of the volunteer firemen was then turned to the protection of adjoining buildings. The roof of Bucknell's livery barn thirty feet away caught fire a number of times, but vigerous action soon put an end to the threatened danger. Twenty or thirty head of horses were cut loose from their stalls and turned into the street. The hose was turned onto that side of Kelley's butcher shop which faced the burning building and it was saved.

For a time the safety of the two general merchandise houses and of several smaller buildings across the street was threatened. Had there been a wind blowing nothing could have saved the town. Gravier & Masters had just recently installed an ice plant, and the shop was well equipped and up to date in every respect. The shop had been closed early in the evening and there was no fire in the building. Hemenway's water tank furnished the means for controlling the fire. There was $2000 insurance on the burned building.—News.

EXPERT OVER GRADE

Editor White of the Press, who hitherto has laughed at the automobile mishaps of Theodore Hale, E. L. Waldteufel, Arthur Tracy, Dolph Marks and other poor unfortunates, and has chronicled their troubles in his rag from time to time with much glee and rather uncomplimentary insinuations as to their ability as chauffeurs, got his about two weeks ago. However, the glad news has only just now come to light through parties from Lake county. White has been keeping very quiet about it. It seems that he has laid claim to being an expert and says he can navigate any road that will provide room, no matter how scanty, for his wheels. The tale related by the Lake county people would seem to indicate that he could not keep on a forty-foot county road in broad daylight, but slipped over the edge.

He was unable to jack his car back on the road and sat down to wait until enough passers by had congregated to lift the car back. He finally got it back on the road by this means. We are reporting this in order that those whom he has hounded will be able to protect hounding will be able to protect themselves hereafter.

KNIGHT-SCHMITT

A merry wedding party came over from Philo lastt Friday, consisting of four people. They were Linton Knight, Miss Dorothy Schmitt, Walter Gschwend and Miss Julia Schmitt. Shortly after their arrival here the two first-mentioned young folks obtained a marriage license and were united in wedlock. After a few days in town they departed for their home in Anderson valley, where the bride and groom have taken up their residence.

Both contracting parties have many friends in the Anderson country who will join in best wishes. The groom is the son of Charles Knight, of Mendocino, who is mill foreman for the Mendocino Lumber Company.

Supervisors' Proceedings

The report of John T. Ham, inspector of the Williams creek bridge was accepted by the board.

The following bids were received for the construction of the proposed road at Mallo Pass in the Fifth road district: C. A. Lawson, $1970; Howard Bishop, $1435.

The bid of Howard Bishop being found to be the lowest and best bid, on motion duly carried, the contract was awarded to him, the work to be completed on or before April 1, 1914.

The matter of the proposed road up Robinson creek was regularly continued from this time to 11 a. m. of Jan. 5, 1914.

R. E. Donohoe was appointed as engineer in charge of the new Mallo Pass road in the Third district.

S. M. Orr was appointed superintendent of construction of the Hensley creek and of the Ackerman creek bridges in the Second district.

A petition was filed with the board asking for the removal of J. R. Banks as horticultural commissioner of Mendocino county, the said petition alleging neglect of duty and citing instances. On motion duly carried, the time for hearing the matter was fixed for 2 p. m. of Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1913.

The following bids for the printing of the tax list were presented to the board by the purchasing agent: Dispatch-Democrat, 3½ cents per name for 5719 names; Ukiah Times, 3 cents per name; Republican Press, 2.76 cents per name.

The bid of the Republican Press being found to be the lowest and best bid, the contract for printing 600 copies of the 1913 tax list was awarded to that paper, to be delivered at the tax collector's office on or before Oct. 20, 1913, otherwise not to be paid for.

Mrs. Geo. Schnitker, of Ukiah, was granted a cash allowance of $80 pending the investigation of the case.

John Gotten and wife, of Gualala, were granted an allowance of 12.50 per month, payable through the store of James McNamee.

The report of J. R. Banks, horticultural commissioner, was accepted by the board.

The report of J. Liftchild, M. D., superintendent of the county farm, was accepted by the board.

A map of the southern addition to the City of Fort Bragg was filed with the board, offering for dedication to the county the following streets and alleys: Franklin, McPhereson and Harrison streets, Hazel, Chestnut, Walnut and Cypress avenues, and the alleys shown on the map.

On motion duly carried, the above streets, avenues and alleys were accepted on behalf of the county as public highways.

By unanimous vote of the board it was determined that owing to the dangerous condition of the McIntyre bridge in the Fifth district, and the urgent necessity for reconstructing same before winter sets in, that the building of said bridge be declared an emergency. Supervisor Reynolds was then authorized to have said bridge reconstructed at a cost not to exceed $1250. The work to be done at once.

The following half-orphan allowances were granted by the board: Mrs. Sybel Gustafsen, one half-orphan, $6.25 per month; Mrs. Rosa Brandt, two half-orphans, $12.50 per month; Mrs. Sadie Conner, four full orphans, $25.00 per month.

An order was made by the board setting aside $580 out of the Second district funds for rights of way, etc., on the proposed Calpella road through the land now in possession of W. F. Lawrence. $160 of said amount to be used for fencing the right of way through said land and the balance, to wit, $420, to be divided equally between the persons entitled thereto, interested in said land. It was further ordered that in case this proposition was not accepted immediately that it shall have no effect on the previous order of the board accepting and approving the viewers report and fixing the damages at $500.

An order was then made for the district attorney to proceed with the condemnation of the above land for road purposes.

The board then adjourned to meet at 10 a. m. Monday, Nov. 3, 1913.

MENDOCINO HIGH WINS MEET

FIND AUTOMOBILE OVER THE GRADE

DESERT WRECK NEAR WILLITS

Later Developments Disclose no Fatalities

Early Friday morning C. A. Scott, accompanied by Dr. Carpenter, of San Francisco, left for Willits. When about half of the distance had been covered the party was held up by a tree that had fallen across the road. While discussing what action to take they were startled at the sight of an overturned car at the foot of the hill. Upon investigation it was found to be a Ford and badly damaged about the body but the running gear was intact. A search revealed nothing except a hat and some tools which were scattered on the ground. It was apparent that the ill-fated autoist had left the scene to secure help, so they returned to Fort Bragg and the journey continued to the valley by way of Mendocino.

Later it was learned that the car was being driven by T. J. Masterson, a real estate man who had been in Fort Bragg several days last week. With the aid of a team the car was hauled onto the road and Masterson continued on to Willits where repairs were made.—Ft. Bragg Chronicle.

BUYS AN OVERLAND

"Chief" Sanford went to San Francisco last Friday to purchase a new Overland car. He was accompanied by F. O. Taylor, the local agent, who will see that the "old hoss" gets all that is coming to him. "Chief" got the automobilitis some time ago and readily fell an easy victim. He says he will be able to "hog 'em up" now in great shape. Mack Andrews, the mechanical wizard, who has been visiting Senator Sanford accompanied the party as far as Petaluma and then proceeded to "beat it" for the sad sea waves at Dillon's Beach, where he has an attraction waiting for him.
